

For Immediate Release
January 3, 2012

PRESS RELEASE

The CulturalBook Readers' Club Gives Books to Members for $1

It must first be noted that this story is for real lovers of reading, writing, and literature professionals seeking advancement. So, if you see the phrase "books for $1" and expect a stack of books on your doorstep that will collect dust on your nightstand for six months, one year or forever, this program probably isn't right for you. But if you devour books and want to share your excitement with other fanatics of the written word while publicizing your own writing and publishing goals and achievements, read on!

About the 1$ Books: They are to Read and Review...

Over the years, I've been asked by many publishers to read and review their new titles. Review copies are still coming at a steady pace; more than I can possibly review personally. So, I would like to offer the members of CulturalBook's Readers' Club, almost-free books from my personal stash. Most have never been opened. A few have been read by myself or a fellow reviewer, but they are like new. Okay, a few have minor, yet artful stains made by my lifelong vice: 100% pure Kona coffee...

Discuss. So, now that you have signed up for the CB Readers Club ($25 for a whole year), hop over to CulturalBook to join a new group created especially for the occasion: How to Write a Great Book Review.

Here you can post reviews you have already written, reviews about the new books you will receive as a member, and you can request comments and critiques of these reviews from your literary peers.

Get Published! Remember that if you receive a review copy, the publisher hopes to see some kind of publicity. Well-written reviews will find themselves on quality sites that have a combined readership of over 20 million visitors every month. Of course, all postings will have your name as reviewer and a link back to your website or blog.

Additionally, the very best quotable quotes may possibly find their way on to the DailyLiteraryQuote Google Gadget and be broadcast to 240,000 subscribers. (This is our gift to you. List price is over $1,000 and is part of our book marketing publicity services.)

First step! Join the Readers' Club, Click here!

Step two, join group How to Write a Great Book Review on CulturalBook.com

Step three: get books; read, review, and discuss. Oh, and don't forget to send a copy of your review to editors@cityroom.com so we can publish it on our aggregate websites.

Questions? Email for answers.

DISCLAIMERS and other notes!

- The review copies are only $1.00, plus media rate postage (currently $2.82 for up to two pounds).
- If you would like to include novels you have authored in this program, please let me know.
- There is a limited number of titles and copies of each title. So, distribution of the almost-free books will be on a "first come" basis.
- All decisions about review postings and marketing activities are solely at our discretion. However, please keep in mind that if we help you succeed in reaching your goals, then we will consider ourselves successful as well.
- If you would like to donate books from your library, please ship them

...

For more information please contact:

Dennis Payne

President, CityRoom Inc.

Phone: (360) 542-4136

Email: Dennis@cityroom.com

Website: www.cityroom.com | www.culturalbook.com

About CityRoom Inc.

CityRoom is an image-oriented business promoting brand awareness through editorial exposure in major websites, blogs, Google Gadgets & Maps, newsletters, and other upscale web assets. Our company's network of over 100 websites leads through an extensive external network comprising many well-known, high-traffic, and respected sites and blogs. Behind CityRoom is a team of talented writers, photographers, and editors who have years of professional experience in journalism and storytelling.